mountains, the Japanesse aiming to envelop the Russian left.

The names Taling, Tiling and Tieling occur in the news dispatches, but there is no reason to suppose that the town of Tieling, thirty or forty miles north of Mukden, is indicated.

Judging from the Russian reports the Japanese have thus far been successful. Kuropatkin's brief reference to the casualties at Beresnoff Hill leads to the expectation of a story later of a desperate and bloody struggle there.

An Important Victory.

The Japanese capture of Tsinkhochen seems to be important.

It is supposed here that Tsinkhocken

Russian bank at Mukden has been ordered to be ready to close the bank. There is much anxiety in Mukden.
Forty thousand Japanese are reported to be at Fakumen, having marched there through the hills on the Mongolian border. Six thousand men, with guns, passed between Simminting and the Liao river on Saturday.
This report, if accurate, clearly indicates a movement west in co-operation with the eastward advance of the Japanese.

The Tokyo correspondent of the Japanese. The Tokyo correspondent of the Telegraph says that Japanese hopes are centered on the coming great battle. Everything possible is being done to make it decisive.

A conference of all the chiefs of staff was held on Saturday, field Marshal Yamagata presiding. Important coun-cils of the ministers have also been held.

BERLIN, Feb. 27 .- A military commis-

A,rehearsal was held yesterday in Car-roll Institute Hall, and many dis-tinguishish lovers of music and some members of the inaugural music com-mittee were present in the gallery. Educated opinion recognizes now that the courteous language of the report does not conceal the fact that a majority of the commissioners definitely disagreed with the contentions on which Admiral Rogestvensky rested his defense.

It is expected that the newspapers, religing upon the report's recognition of his immanitarian feelings, will assert that Admiral Rogestvensky has been excepted at Admiral Rogestvensky has been excepted the invitation.

In the opinion of experts Mr. Foster has gathered together the finest musical program ever presented at an inaugration concert. Mr. Foster says that the chorus and orchestra are in splendid condition.

several roads, one leading to Mukden, another to Liaoyang, and still another connecting Saimatse and Fushun. The last named place is believed to be the center of the Russian left.

It is assumed that the Japanese are aiming to occupy the town of Tieling or to cut the railway between that place and Mukden.

An unofficial dispatch from the Russian headquarters, dated yesterday, says the fighting continues in front and west to Tieling. On the extreme east the Japanese have taken the outlying Russian positions and now threaten the main defenses.

Other indications point to an unusual struggle being in progress.

A blustering snowstorm raged all day and ended in a bitter wind. This change in the weather may modify the nature of the conflict. The region in which the Japanese are attacking is lightly wooded, with high mountains.

An unknown and unidentified force of Japanese and chunchuses is still hovering west of Kungchialin. The cannonade in the center has diminished in intensity. There is no evidence of any other activity on the part of the enemy.

Collector C. F. Leach, of Cleveland, water front fire, which broke out last has gene to New York to make seizure of about $150,000 worth of Chadwick jewels located there by Treasury De-The fire dealt a severe blow to the partment officials;

The fire dealt a severe blow to the city's growing export trade, having destroyed eleven blocks of wharfs, freight sheds and grain elevators. Eighty fambles were made homeless by the flames.

After many weeks of investigation Collector Leach discovered that Mrs. Chadwick had deposited about $150,000 Long Beyond Control.

The fire started shortly after 6 o'clock last evening and for hours was out of the control of the eatire fire department. The blaze started in the elevator shaft the control of the eatire fire department. soon as the loan had been made, the financier transferred the jewels to a bank in New York, where they remained until Collector Leach secured them Saturday or this morning.

Seven thousand men will be thrown out of work by the fire. The largest portion of the warehouses and the two elevators were the property of the Illinois Central raliroad, which carried practically all their own insurance.

Announcement was received this morning from the company's headquarters in Chicago that the work of rebuilding will be commenced as soon as the loan had been made, the financier transferred the jewels to a bank in New York, where they remained until Collector Leach secured them Saturday or this morning.

The eastoms official will have every one of the stones examined by experts in New York or Chicago with a view to showing whether they are of foreign origin. It is not known definitely that the gems were smuggled. There is only a presumption that Mrs. Chadwick succeeded in slipping the jewels into this country when she returned from abroad. An examination may reveal the fact that the jewels are not American cut, and yet-not conclusively prove that Mrs. Chadwick is a smuggler. However, the presumption entertained would be greatly strengthened.
